STRANGER ATTEMPTS TO PASS SPURIOUS CHECK

Dr. William Carnegie, citizen of Westminster, announced to his subscribers on “Telephones Sunday” that he would not comply with the request that had been made of him to pray for the success of British arms. He said: “Among the things which I hold should not be passed for, I mention it with great hesitation, but feel to be my duty since it is set forth in the 17th section of the Bill of Rights—the right of the party giving the check to unknown them. Mr. Utz still has the horses, however. The stranger, who represented himself to be Wm. C. Wilson arranged with Mr. Utz to hold the animals in the Utz barns for 10 days, the buyer and seller to split the cost of the feed. Wilson then went to a South St. Joseph feed store, ordered $8 worth of hay sent to the barns and tendered a check for $15 in payment. The dealer was suspicious and refused to cash the check. The stranger left the store unpaid up to last accounts had not been apprehended by the police.

SAYS THAT EXPLORERS DIED IN FAR NORTH

Captain Robert Barrett, commander of the steamer Kiskiak, which carried the Stefansson expedition to the Arctic bar expressed the belief that the 8 missing explorers of the expedition had perished long ago.

“Those 8 men set out from Fort Ross from the place where the Kiskiak was crushed in pack ice and headed for Wrangel Island, 80 miles distant,” he said. “They never reached the island. The men had neither proper supplies nor experience in Arctic work to carry them safely through the months since February, 1914. They perished without doubt.”

BILL PROVIDES FOR A STATE DOG TAX

A dog tax is now up before the state assembly. The measure is sponsored by Colonel Harry H. Hawes of St. Louis, and was introduced by Senator Anderson Craig of Maysville in the senate, and by Representative Davis of Lafayette in the house.

It imposes a tax of $1 on every dog hoof of which is to go to the state road fund and the remainder to be used for the establishment of state dog kennels for the breeding of the best dogs in Columbia, under the immediate supervision of the state board of agriculture. Colonel Hawes estimates there are 125,000 dogs in the state and that a large per cent of them are worthless.

A packinghouse clerk informed an acquaintance he “just missed” a street car—might have gotten it had he run for it. “Why didn’t you run for it, then?” asked his friend. “That would be too much like running for work,” was the reply.

MOST OF GOTHAM'S JOBLESS WANT WORK

Of 1,340 unemployed men examined by a score of investigators at the N. Y. municipal testing house, four-fifths have been found employable and upwards of 800 were anxious to work, says a preliminary report issued by J. A. Kingsbury, commissioner of the department of charities.

About one-fifth were found broken in health and unemployable, while a few others admitted to being vagrants by choice, and a third group were temporarily too inferior. The property damage during that period was $20,598.82.

The report shows 1,645 corporations are serving the public in Missouri. Of these 144 are telephone companies, 74
